

Countries of the Americas agree to promote health in all public policies

Idioma Undefined

Health officials from the Americas approved yesterday a plan of action to include health in all public policies that can impact the well-being of the population.

The Plan of Action on Health in All Policies was discussed during the 53rd Directing Council of the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO). The plan promotes an approach to public policies across sectors that systematically takes into account the health implications of decisions and that prevents harmful health impacts, to improve population health and health equity.
