

Political Declaration on NCDs agreed

Langue Anglais

The Political Declaration for the HLM on NCDs was finally agreed by Member States in New York and will now be transmitted for approval by Heads of State and Government at the UN High-Level Meeting on NCDs on 27 September.

Approval was delayed by disagreement over 1 of the 34 paragraphs of the document, which deals with The Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS). These are flexibilities in intellectual property rules on essential medicines, which governments can use to safeguard public health.

"Ensuring healthy lives for the world's people now depends on leaders determined to carry the baton by prioritising optimal health for all people and fully grasping that the HLM must be a transition point from commitment to action which goes well beyond the minimal standards set out in the text of the Political Declaration". - Katie Dain, CEO, NCD Alliance
